

OUR MISSION

IRESKO is determined to be the premier supplier on the east coast of heat transfer technologies and equipment for the industrial and heavy commercial refrigeration industry. This will be accomplished by representing top manufacturers producing high quality, state-of-the-art equipment; by providing timely and professional customer service and support; adding value by way of expertise and experience in the domain; by careful attention to detail; and via courteous interaction with our client base.

We desire to be the key link between the companies manufacturing the equipment and the contractor base purchasing and installing it. As such, we pledge to remain educated and skilled in knowledge of the products, their applications, and their use in refrigeration systems.